

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and Always Helpful

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of uncollected and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

TO BUILD NEW COLONY.

Chicago Lithuanians Going to Columbia River Valley.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Within a short time a great section of Chicago's Lithuanian colony, 10,000 at least, is to be transported bodily to the Columbia river valley, on the Pacific coast. The membership fee is set at $100, which will give the society a capital of $1,000,000. Factories will be started, towns built, and an army of workers will settle down into lives of country people.

The colony will have no restrictions. If a man is a Lithuanian, that will be sufficient. There is nothing socialistic or communistic about the movement. It is expected that 15,000 other Lithuanians in this country will join their Chicago brethren in the colony.

The Times' Daily Short Story.

The Initiation of An Embryo General

(Original.)

The officers of the 4th Hussars were profoundly moved. Commissions in the regiment had from time immemorial been reserved for the sons of noblemen, and now John Hunkins, the son of a retired brewer, had been appointed. There was a babel of voices at the Junior mess, all raised in protest against this invasion of a prerogative of the peerage. One man sat quietly listening without a word, but he was a younger son of a baronet who had made money in trade and had been admitted to the sacred circle of titled people because he had given his fortune to the poor. George Trotter had no reason to feel aggrieved at the new appointment and vouchsafed no remark either of agreement or dissent.

"It's very easy to get wiled of these common intruders," said Lord Hartley. "All we have to do is to freeze 'em out."

"Just so," assented the Hon. Mr. Maxey.

"But suppose their beggarly natures are too obtuse to see what's meant by the treatment we give 'em?" put in the Earl of Harrowby.

"In that case," Hartley explained, "we'll appoint a committee to visit their rooms and smash their furniture."

"A very effective measure," remarked the Hon. Maxey.

"Twit'er," said Hartley, "you don't seem interested in the matter at all."

"Oh, Trotter's not been one of our kind long enough to be interested!" sneered Harrowby.

"That's just it," replied Trotter composedly. "My great-grandmother didn't happen to be a king's mistress."

Harrowby, whose title had originated in the manner referred to, did not appear at all distressed at the allusion. Indeed, he was quite proud of the relation the founder of the family bore to the sovereign.

At this point who should walk into the messroom but the subject of the discussion, a well built young Englishman, with flaxen hair and blue eyes.

"Good evening, gentlemen," he said, taking a seat and helping himself. "I'm glad to be one of you."

The Hon. Mr. Maxey, turning, brought his monocle on the newcomer. "I say, isn't your father a brewer?"

"He was," replied Hunkins.

"Well, then, why didn't he bring you up to the business?"

"Isn't your father Lord Bungleried?"

"Yes."

"Well, why didn't he bring you up to be a gentleman?"

Some of the mess smiled, but those who had been most active with their tongues then and there resolved that the brewer's son must be frozen out.

But Hunkins appeared to be too obtuse to see their intentions or too good natured to notice them, and they resolved upon more strenuous means. A committee went to his quarters and smashed some chinaware which he greatly prized. The next evening he visited the quarters of three men he suspected and smashed whatever he could find that was easily breakable.

When the officers of the Junior mess assembled for dinner that evening there was a worse hubbub than when they had discussed the new appointment. In the midst of it he walked Hunkins.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I've been obliged to retaliate for the breaking of my china without being sure of the men who did it. If I have made any mistake I'm ready to apologize and replace what I have damaged. If not I'm ready to give satisfaction after dinner on the tankard in the riding hall."

It appeared that he had made no mistake, for Hartley, Harrowby and Maxey, whose articles he had broken, all claimed the privilege of knocking him out. Hunkins undertook to satisfy these gentlemen in the order named. He had good muscle and was a fine boxer. Hartley was soon put out of the fight, but Harrowby was not so easily disposed of. Hunkins had need for all his skill and endurance. He finally knocked out the noble lord, but when he had done so he was next to knocked out himself. The best man of his three enemies still remained. To him the defeated men looked to revenge them.

"Beg pardon," said Trotter, stepping forward. "It wouldn't be becoming of us as gentlemen to permit a newcomer among us to fight three men on the same evening. I'll take Mr. Hunkins' place with Mr. Maxey."

"There's no quarrel with you, Trotter," Hartley protested.

"Certainly not," Harrowby chimed in.

But Englishmen respect courage, and the others present thought that Hunkins in fighting two men had done all that could be expected of him. Maxey proved that he was not disposed to take advantage of a winded adversary and consented to meet the substitute. The fight that followed was a long one. The disputants were evenly matched, and neither could get the advantage of the other. When it was found almost impossible after the twentieth round for either to come up to the scratch the fight was declared off, and the incident of smashed furniture was a thing of the past.

And so was the objection to Hunkins. He had won his way into the most aristocratic regiment in the British service by simply pursuing a straightforward course, and there is no better way for young men to get respect for each other than by the good old English method of settling their disputes with their fists. Hunkins is now a general, having won his principal promotion during the Boer war.

JUDGE START PASSES AWAY

Vermont Supreme Court Judge Died Last Night

AFTER MONTHS OF ILLNESS

Third Justice on the Bench—Was Educated at Barre Academy—Was Considered a Strong Lawyer.

Bakersfield, Nov. 8.—Judge Henry R. Start of the Vermont supreme court died at his home here last evening after an illness of several months. His family were at the bedside at the end. Judge Start had not been able to sit with the supreme bench for some time. The funeral will be on Friday afternoon at 2.

Henry R. Start was born in Bakersfield December 23, 1815. He was educated at the Bakersfield and Barre academies. He served as a private in Co. A, 3rd Vt. Vols., during a part of the Civil War. After the close of the war he studied law and was admitted to the Franklin county bar in 1867 and began to practice the same year in Bakersfield.

From 1876 to 1878 Mr. Start was state's attorney for Franklin county. Forming a partnership with A. P. Cross and H. G. Edson of St. Albans in January, 1881, he retained his residence in Bakersfield and the firm built up a large practice. In 1889 he was elected a senator in the state legislature from Franklin county and served on the judiciary committee. From 1880 to 1888 he served as one of the trustees of the state reform school at Vergennes. In 1888 he was one of the Vermont presidential electors chosen on the Republican ticket. In 1890 he was elected to represent Bakersfield in the lower house of the state legislature and was chosen speaker. At the close of the session he was elected one of the judges of the state supreme court and had been successively elected every two years since that time.

On June 10, 1869, Mr. Start married Ellen S. Houghton, who died July 23, 1890. He is survived by four children, S. Gould, Guy H., Mabel S., and Burdette H. Judge Start was a brother of Charles M. Start, chief justice of the Minnesota supreme court.

RIOTS AT PRAGUE.

Streets Are Barricaded With Barbed Wire and Stones.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Times, in a copyrighted cable from the London Times, quoting a dispatch from Prague, says:

Barricades formed of stones and garden seats have been erected here and barbed wire has been stretched across the streets by the rioters, who shoot from the barricades at the soldiers. Street lamps have been intentionally smashed in order to obstruct the policemen and soldiers who had many encounters with armed students. Socialist organizations have distributed 1,200 revolvers. Five thousand Czechs and students have declared their solidarity with the revolutionists.

An officer of dragoons named Von Benesch was Monday thrown from his horse, which was frightened by the noise of the firing, and broke his foot. The mob tried to lynch him.

It is reported that martial law will be proclaimed today.

The trouble arose out of the authorization which has been granted 80,000 Socialists to form an orderly procession on Sunday in order to demonstrate in favor of universal suffrage.

Gendarmes, cavalry and infantry were brought from the country to strengthen the Prague garrison. Soon after noon the Socialists decided to break their promise to be orderly, and attacked the police with sticks and stones. The police defended themselves with revolvers and sabres, but were unable to disperse the mob.

Capt. Baron Unlauf of the dragoons, therefore commanded them to attack at full speed on the principal street, the Graben. The Socialists were dispersed. Three regiments of infantry then occupied all the streets and public squares. Four persons were killed and a boy's head was split open. About 100 other persons were wounded and 200 rioters arrested.

The pavements were stained with blood, and thousands of shop windows were smashed. The superintendent of police received 13 wounds. All shops and house doors were closed. The tram cars and other means of conveyance have been stopped.

WIDOW LED RIOTERS

Clad in Scarlet She Urged Strikers Not to Give Way

TO RUSSIAN TROOPS

Climbed Telegraph Pole—When Soldiers Fired She Fell Dead Like a Sparrow from a Twig—134 Perished With Her.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—William T. Stead, who has just returned from Russia by way of Finland and Copenhagen, stopped over here yesterday on his way to Paris. For an hour and a half he poured forth his vivid impressions of "hell pretty well let loose," as he called it, of the things that he had seen and heard, and of the "ghastly welter into which Russian society has drifted."

"Strange things are happening," said Mr. Stead. "Think of the incidents at Revel."

"Some determined persons marched down the street to the Town Hall, followed by a crowd. There the mayor and councilmen were sitting, deliberating on the situation. In came our determined friends."

"Right to Rule Ourselves."

"We demand," said they, "liberty, universal suffrage, and the right to rule ourselves."

"But, said the mayor, 'I cannot give you these things. I would gladly send your petition to the emperor.'"

"Well," continued the delegates, "we are delegates of a revolution, and if we do not get what we want we have decided to burn the city. Give us 7,500 roubles."

"The mayor and his colleagues thought it was better to pay the 7,000 roubles than to have the city burned, so they raised the money and paid the delegates, and the latter went away promising to be very good, and they were good."

"But another crowd came and said: 'What about us? Pay us, too.'"

"This the mayor would not do, and so they went away with threats of destruction."

Widow Dressed in Scarlet.

"The Red Virgin" of the French Commune was Louise Michel. Well, in Revel a certain widow named Linde, dressed in scarlet from top to toe and with an axe over her shoulder, placed herself at the head of the mob.

"All night the revolutionists whetted themselves up. In the meantime the governor had got out troops and when the mob gathered in the morning it faced the soldiers in the great square. The governor called on the mob to disperse and said that if after fifteen minutes they did not disperse he would order the troops to fire."

"Five minutes went by, and the Widow Linde, in red, climbed a lamp post, cried out encouragement and exhorted steadfastness to the revolution. The soldiers began to call out to the people to go away, as if they were ordered to fire they must do so, and they did not want to kill anybody."

"Kill him! Kill him!" screamed the Widow Linde, pointing to the governor.

"Several revolver shots were fired from the crowd, but no one was hit. The governor, who waited to the end of the fifteen minutes, gave the command to fire, and the Widow Linde, shot through the body, fell to the ground as Baron Exull, an eyewitness, told me, 'like a sparrow from a twig.'"

135 Killed by the Volley.

"One hundred and five persons were picked up dead from the square and thirty more died in the hospitals. The coolest man in Russia is the emperor. God grant that he may keep his seat; that the Liberals may gather

NOT A "PATENT MEDICINE."

Scott's Emulsion is not a "patent medicine." It has no secret ingredients.

Your doctor can, no doubt, tell you as much about it as we could. We have merely perfected the method of blending the Norwegian cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine.

As one grocer will blend coffee better than another so we have succeeded in making Scott's Emulsion a little better than any other cod liver oil preparation.

There's no "patent" and the only secret is the secret of knowing how, with the perfect mechanical means at hand to do it. Get Scott's and you get the perfect emulsion. It's the greatest thing in the world for regaining strength and flesh lost through wasting.

Weighty Professional Endorsements.

That the several American medicinal roots, the concentrated glyceric extracts of which make up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, have the strongest kind of endorsement by scores of leading medical writers of all the several schools of practice, a brief glance at the standard works on Materia Medica will show. Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the prominent ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric (stomach) catarrh and headaches accompanying same." He also mentions catarrh of the gall duct, jaundice and constipation as diseases which the use of Golden Seal root overcomes; also catarrh of the intestines, over which it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis (Golden Seal root).

Dr. Grover Coe, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." Dr. Coe also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scrofulous and glandular diseases, spontaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, chronic diarrhoea, constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver; also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Coe says "it is one of the most reliable agents of cure."

Prof. Hobart A. Hays, M. D., of the University of Pa., says of Golden Seal root that it is "of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels, following abuse of alcohol, and as a tonic after malarial fever." He further says, it "has a distinct anti-malarial influence." Also "good in all catarrhal conditions, uterine catarrh, leucorrhoea, etc., and as a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., of the Medical Department, University City of N. Y., is equally loud in his praise of Golden Seal root, especially for its tonic effects in convalescence from acute diseases and its special tonic influence upon mucous surfaces and upon the gall bladder.

Doctors Barton and Tully recommended Golden Seal root as a pure tonic and as an alternative in diseased conditions of the mucous membranes.

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSARY, gives a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it, as does also Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati. Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched."

"It is universally regarded as an improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "in relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic, useful in all debilitated states."

about him, and that they may resist the forces of dissolution. His authority is shaken, passions are loose, and things are likely to be worse.

"There may be fearful slaughterings. As an optimist, I think a hundred thousand lives may fall. If I were pessimistic, I would say two millions."

"The situation is something like this: 'The police, gendarmes and Cossacks have been suppressing a revolution in the name of the emperor. Suddenly, they say, the emperor goes over to the Liberal side, and shows that he thinks more of those who want to vote and who are doing everything in the way of meeting and agitation, which the police were taught to believe was unlawful, than he does of them. It is simply human nature for the police and gendarmes to say:

"Oh! Very well! If the emperor's new friends act like this it is no concern of ours."

"Toryism Breaks Loose!"

"And when the police are indifferent the Hooligans break loose and toryism in society also breaks loose. That mass of ignorant conservatism which only thinks of killing—the Black Hand in Moscow—are Conservatives who are offended by the Liberals getting the upper hand. All through the Russian empire authority, as represented by the police, Cossacks and gendarmes, is shaken, as I have said, and the forces that tend to tear society apart are at work."

Mr. Stead added that the army could no longer be depended upon. Several officers at Helsingfors had sent word to the Liberals while holding a meeting that they need not be afraid, as the troops would not fire.

"The Liberals," he continued, "are unfortunately holding back from support of the crown at a time when every man who has a good coat on his back or a rouble in his pocket should stand by the emperor, who has placed himself on the Liberal side."

"The Liberals are unable at once to overcome their distrust. The fuller liberties have been granted too late. Autocracy lost the respect of the country during the war and during the delay in granting those liberties which the emperor decided upon two months ago."

"The situation has been as though a man who owed you a thousand pounds had promised to pay it and meant to pay it was dunning you for eight shillings and six pence."

Special Constabulary Needed.

"The thing to save Russia is for the Liberals to organize special constabularies to uphold order and allow time to work out the new government machinery."

"Things are about as bad as possible, but I hope that order will emerge, especially if all the alcohol could be turned into sour milk during the next three months. Wherever great excesses are committed they are preceded by a liberal consumption of alcohol."

Senator Redfield Proctor, of Proctor, called on President Roosevelt Saturday morning to present the name of ex-Gov. U. A. Woodbury, of Burlington, for a place on the West Point visiting board. The appointment will probably be made.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal root: "It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night-sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb." (This agent, Golden Seal root, is an important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's weaknesses, as well as of the "Golden Medical Discovery.") Dr. Ellingwood continues, "in all catarrhal conditions it is useful."

Much more, did space permit, could be quoted from prominent authorities as to the wonderful curative properties possessed by Golden Seal root.

We want to assure the reader that "Golden Medical Discovery" can be relied upon to do all that is claimed for Golden Seal root in the cure of all the various diseases as set forth in the above brief extracts, for the prominent and important ingredient is Golden Seal root. This agent is, however, strongly reinforced, and its curative action greatly enhanced by the addition, in just the right proportion of Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure glycerine. These are happily and harmoniously blended into a most perfect pharmaceutical compound, now favorably known throughout most of the civilized countries of the world. Bear in mind that each and every ingredient entering into the "Discovery" has the most endorsement of the leading medical men of our land, who extol each article named above in the highest terms.

What other medicine put up for sale through druggists can show any such professional endorsement? For dyspepsia, liver troubles, all chronic conditions, uterine catarrh, leucorrhoea, etc., and as a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

By reading the little book noted below any one will readily appreciate the applicability of the "Golden Medical Discovery" to the cure of all the foregoing list of diseases as well as many other chronic affections, especially those of the heart, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood.

A little book of extracts treating of all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works, of the different schools of practice will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter), for the same, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address plainly written.

In cases of chronic ailments, attended by marked, or persistent, constipation, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken conjointly with the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery" to regulate the bowels. The fact in harmony with the "Discovery" and will be found to be a most valuable laxative, or, in fuller doses a cleansing cathartic.

Podophyllin, the active medicinal principle of Mandrake root, enters largely into the composition of the little sugar-coated "Pellets" and is one of their chief ingredients. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

"ARMY" OF STRIKE-BREAKERS.

New Project Is Under Way in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A "standing army" of unemployed men, recruited through bureaus in all of the large cities under the direction of employers' associations and held in readiness to be transported in two or three days' time to the scene of any labor disturbance, is a strategic project for the breaking of big strikes which assumed definite shape Monday in Chicago. The plan, which originated with the local Employers' Association, will be presented for ratification to the convention of the Citizens' Industrial Association next week in St. Louis.
